Stewardship is a core Christian practice rooted in scripture. The Bible offers a commentary on human stewardship that begins with God's purpose in setting our first ancestor in the garden of stewardship "in the new creation, in a recurring pattern of crisis and resolution. That pattern of human crisis and divine resolution flows through the Bible — in the creation, in the covenant with Abraham, in the law, the prophets and the writings of the Hebrew scripture, in the life of Jesus, and in the continuing life of his disciples after the resurrection.
